15th Asian Chemical Congress (15 ACC) 2013

August 19-23, 2013 • Resort World Sentosa, Singapore

Introduction

The Asian Chemical Congress (ACC) is held at two yearly intervals hosted by the members of the Federation of Asian Chemical Societies (FACS) which comprises 28 chemical societies of countries and territories in the Asia Pacific.

15th ACC @ Singapore will be an exciting conference in chemistry for the Asian community to strengthen current networks and to establish new collaborative links within Asian community and also with the rest of the world. The scientific program comprises sessions that illustrate the relevance and value of chemistry in modern science and technology.

15 ACC will cover but not limit to the following technical themes:

- Biological Chemistry
- Chemical Analysis & Characterisation
- Chemicals from Biomass
- Chemistry in Urban Living
- Chemistry Education in Emerging Asian Economies
- Education in Chemistry
- Functional Foods
- General Chemistry
- Green Synthesis & Catalysis
- Metal-Organic Frameworks
- Molecular Photonics & Electronics
- Molecular Therapeutics & Diagnostics
- Polymers & Supramolecules
- Sustainable Energy
- The Interface Between Chemistry & Materials
- Water Chemistry and Engineering

15 ACC also features the following 3 special sessions to celebrate the success in Asian Chemistry Related Research.

- Asian Rising Stars
- History of ACC
- Pioneers from Asia

Language

The official language of 15 ACC is English.

First Asian Chemical Research Fair (ACRF-1)

This is a premium education & school research initiative for selected students in the pre-university and senior secondary schools to showcase their research projects of exceptional qualities to an international audience of pioneering researchers and frontier scientists in a dedicated forum at 15 ACC. All projects will be presented as posters on Day 1 of 15 ACC and judged by a panel comprising Nobel Laureates and eminent scientists. Shortlisted projects will be orally presented on Day 4 of 15 ACC and awarded at the Conference Banquet. First prize would include a sponsored-trip to an international conference.

Students of pre-university and senior secondary schools from all FACS member society countries are encouraged to participate. Other international students of comparable qualification are also welcome. A special discounted registration rate is applied.
